2009 TELECONFERENCE SERIES

Conservation & Recreation: “Working with Land Conservancies”

Learning objectives:

- ◆ To explore the similar goals of the conservation and recreation communities.
- ◆ To learn of tools available to enhance green infrastructure and plan for sustainable communities.
- ◆ To consider examples of collaboration in North Carolina.

Schedule:

Part 1: Shared Goals

Speaker: Lindsey Dunevant
RRS Consultant

Discussion on conservation by design, economic impacts, community development, health & wellness, social justice, raising the awareness of value of open space, “Last Child in the Woods”, ecological sustainability, and political capital.

Part 2: Working with Land Trusts

Speaker: Jason Walser,
Executive Director of the Land
Trust of Central North Carolina

Discussion on synergy gained, successful projects, how to use tax credits and contacts.

About Our Speakers:

Lindsey Dunevant is the South Central Consultant for Recreation Resources Service. Prior to joining RRS, he worked for the Town of Albemarle for 31 years, serving as the Director of Parks and Recreation Parks for 21 years. As Director, his accomplishments include the planning and development of City Lake Park with revitalization of an 80-acre lake; promotion of greenway development through the establishment of a greenway commission and over $500,000 in grant funding (PARTF, Phase I & II); and partnership and collaborative projects with schools. He currently serves as a Stanly County Commissioner, is on the board of the Land Trust for Central North Carolina, and the Carolina Thread Trail Advisory Committee. He holds a Masters in Business Administration from Pfeiffer College and a B.S. in Recreation and Parks Administration from NCSU.

Jason Walser graduated from UNC Chapel Hill with a BS in Business Administration, and returned to Chapel Hill to obtain a law degree as well. After practicing primarily estate planning and probate law with Linkous and Associates in Hendersonville for just over a year, Jason joined The Land Trust for Central North Carolina in 1999 as the Associate Director for Land Protection. He was promoted to Executive Director in 2001 and has served in that role ever since.
